University of the Cumberlands Mission Statement

The University of the Cumberlands has historically served students primarily, but not exclusively, from the beautiful mountain regions of Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio and Alabama which have traditionally been described as Appalachia. The University's impact can be seen in the achievements of its graduates who have assumed roles of leadership in this region and throughout the nation. While located in the resort-like area of Appalachia, with emphasis primarily on serving the beautiful mountain area, the University now reaches into every state and around the world through its student body and alumni. UC continues to offer promising students of all backgrounds a broad-based liberal arts program enriched with Christian values. The University strives for excellence in all of its endeavors and expects from students a similar dedication to this pursuit. Its commitment to a strong academic program is joined with a commitment to a strong work ethic. UC encourages students to think critically and creatively so that they may better prepare themselves for lives of responsible service and leadership. This focus of its undergraduate programs is extended and extrapolated into its graduate programs. These programs prepare professionals to be servant-leaders in their disciplines and communities, linking research with practice and knowledge with ethical decision-making in the pursuit of the life-more-abundant for both the individual and society.

Accreditation

University of the Cumberlands is accredited to award baccalaureate, master’s, and doctoral degrees by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS), 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, GA 30033 • (404) 679-4500 • Fax: (404) 679-4558. Interested constituents may contact SACS 1) to inquire about the University’s accreditation status, 2) to file a third-party comment as part of its decennial review, or 3) to file a complaint alleging non-compliance with a standard or requirement. Any other inquiries, such as those concerning admissions requirements, financial aid, educational programs, etc., should be addressed directly to the University and not to the Commission’s Office.

Nondiscrimination Policy

In compliance with federal law, including the provisions of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act as amended, and the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008, University of the Cumberlands does not illegally discriminate against individuals on the basis of their race, sex, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, military service, or genetic information in the administration of its education policies, programs, activities, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic or other university-administered programs, or in employment.

The following persons have been designated to handle inquiries and charges of violation of the nondiscrimination policies:

Disability, Section 504, and ADA Coordinator
Dr. Tom Fish, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

University of the Cumberlands is accredited by the Commission of Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award baccalaureate, master’s, and doctoral degrees. Inquiries concerning the accreditation status of the University may be directed to the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or by calling 404-679-4500.
Program Description

Through its Master of Arts in Professional Counseling (MAPC), University of the Cumberlands offers a graduate program for those students aspiring to become Licensed Professional Counselors. The program is designed to serve both recent baccalaureate graduates and licensed professionals who desire to broaden their expertise as mental health counselors in community settings. The aim of this degree program is to provide students with the academic background and requirements that enable one to become a Licensed Professional Counselor. The MAPC program is a 60-hour master’s degree program. The majority of the coursework is offered in an online format in 8-week sessions (bi-terms). Two bi-terms make up a semester. Students may enter the program at the beginning of any 8-week bi-term. Summer terms are generally reserved for the Practicum rotations and independent study.

Program Curriculum

Students who have completed a baccalaureate degree in psychology, social work, human services or a related field and who do not hold any professional licenses would be required to take all of the courses in the program (there are no electives). The 60-hour curriculum includes online courses, and two clinical practicum rotations (300 clock hours each) as well as the opportunity to complete some independent study courses. The master’s degree is confirmed upon successful completion of the second practicum rotation and all required coursework.

An exciting opportunity for students in the Master of Arts in Professional Counseling is the option to complete a portion of their coursework in Oxford University. A total of 8-weeks of intensive, face to face seminar instruction in Oxford is required. This 8-week regimen of intensive instruction in Oxford takes place during July and August each year. The tutorial nature of the instruction limits the class size to twenty-four students per year.

University of the Cumberlands is an organization which contracts with St Stephen’s House for the use of facilities, but which has no formal connection with the University of Oxford. In a case such as this, where University of the Cumberlands is the degree-granting institution but the students are in residence at St Stephen’s House, a Permanent Private Hall of the University of Oxford, care must be taken to respect the traditions of both institutions and to avoid any misrepresentations as to the students' academic visitor status at the University of Oxford.

Admission to the Program

Applicants to the MAPC program must submit the following materials to the Graduate Admissions Office:

- Transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate coursework from all colleges and universities attended. A minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 for all prior coursework is required.
• Candidates applying for recognition of post-baccalaureate professional experience must also submit a copy of their professional license or certificate.
• Submit a 500-word Statement of Purpose for graduate study.
• Submit two Letters of Reference from individuals commenting on the applicant’s academic and professional potential.
• All applicants to the MAPC program must complete an interview with the Program Director and/or program instructors. This interview is generally conducted over the phone due to the distance from campus that many students live.

Admission Requirements
A Bachelor’s degree is required for admission into the graduate program. In addition, it is recommended that students entering the MAPC program have either a major or minor in Psychology in their undergraduate program.

Provisional Admission
Other candidates without an undergraduate major or minor in Psychology will be considered if they have completed a minimum of 12 hours in Psychology courses. It is also recommended that these students have had the following courses in their undergraduate program:

• at least one course in counseling
• a course in research methods or basic statistics
• a course in abnormal psychology

Students who lack one or more of these courses in their undergraduate program may be admitted provisionally at the recommendation of the Program Director. Students may also be permitted to take one or more of these courses on the undergraduate level to supplement their admission requirements during the first semester of admission into the MAPC program.

Students whose GPA does not meet the minimum requirements may be admitted conditionally at the recommendation of the Program Director.

Policies and Procedures

Transfer of Credit Policy
The M.A. in Professional Counseling degree program requires completion of 60 hours of graduate level work. This is also a requirement for licensure as a Professional Counselor in most states. Normally no more than 18 post-baccalaureate semester hours of credit may be transferred from a regionally-accredited institution of higher learning. These transfer credits must be in courses determined to be equivalent to courses required in the program. All transfer credits must be approved by the Program Director and the Registrar.

Recognition of Post-baccalaureate Professional Experience
Students who have a bachelor’s degree, who have been practicing in a counseling-related field, and whose practice is approved by a state license or certificate may be eligible to substitute independent study coursework for specific courses in the program. Such substitutions recognize the post-baccalaureate professional experiences that demonstrate a student’s mastery of professional skills and concepts in the field of counseling. These students still must complete a 60-hour counseling curriculum. However, rather retaking courses in which they have documented or demonstrated professional mastery, they may be permitted to substitute Case Reports, a Master’s Thesis or some combination of these two options to complete their 60-hour degree program.

Leave of Absence
A leave of absence from the M.A. in Professional Counseling program may be granted by the Program Director for medical or personal reasons. Requests for leaves of absence must be made in writing to the Program Director. A student on a leave of absence may be permitted to resume course work upon receipt of documentation that satisfactory resolution has occurred of the problem necessitating the leave of absence. Repetition of course work satisfactorily completed prior to the leave of absence will not be required provided resumption in training occurs within one academic year from the date the leave of absence begins.

Time Limit for Degree Completion
The program of study for the Master of Arts in Professional Counseling must be completed within four years of enrolling in the program. Any extension of this time limit must be approved by the Program Director.

Academic Standing
The following standards will determine a student’s academic standing:
1. Candidates must maintain a GPA of 3.0 and earn a grade of “B” or better on all course work counting toward the M.A. of Professional Counseling degree. Students must retake any course in which they do not achieve a grade of at least “B”.

2. A student with a GPA below 3.0 will be placed on academic probation.

3. Students on academic probation for two consecutive semesters may not be allowed to continue as a degree candidate in the program.

In addition, students are expected to adhere to the ethical standards and guidelines of the American Counseling Association or the American Mental Health Counselors Association. Breach of ethical practices will result in dismissal from the program.

Being placed on probation warns the student that academic performance is below the minimum requirements of the Program. During the probation period, a student has the opportunity to raise the GPA or correct other specifically identified problems. If these deficiencies are not remediated, a student may be dismissed from the Program. Probationary status is determined and monitored by the Program Director in consultation with the Academic Coordinator and the Registrar. The minimum length of probation is one semester.

Grades

The following grading system is used of the Professional Counseling program:

- A Superior performance, four quality points earned for each semester hour
- B Performance distinctly above average, three quality points earned for each semester hour
- C Average performance, two quality points earned for each semester hour
- F Failure, given for unsatisfactory work, no quality points earned.
- W Withdrawn from class without a punitive grade.
- WP Withdrawn passing
- WF Withdrawn failing.
- AF Failure due to excessive absences.
- I Incomplete, assigned only where a small unit of work is not complete because of verifiable extenuating circumstances. An “I” contract must be approved by the Academic Affairs Office and submitted to the Registrar’s Office for each “I” grade assigned.

The grade point average is computed on all graduate course work with the exception of “W” or “WP.” The grade of “I” is computed as an “F” in determining qualifications for candidacy. If the grade point average is below 3.0 (B), the candidacy application is held until the incomplete is cleared and the grade earned is then considered in determining the grade point average. A grade of “F” cannot be used toward degree or non-degree programs but will be used toward computing GPA. Candidates for a graduate degree are required to have a combined cumulative grade point average of “B” in all courses. A “W” or “WP” grade has no bearing on the grade point average. A “WF” or “AF” is the equivalent of an “F” grade. Students wishing to withdraw prior to completing the semester should complete an official withdrawal form from the Office of Academic Affairs.
The grade of incomplete is awarded only when legitimate circumstances warrant. The grade of “I” will be recorded on the graduate student’s transcript and will remain until the faculty member awarding this grade makes the appropriate change or until the time specified on the “I” contract expires. The maximum length of time an “I” may remain on a transcript is one calendar year. At the end of a one calendar year period, the incomplete will change to the grade of “F” if the student has not completed the course requirement as specified by the instructor. Each submitted incomplete must be accompanied by a valid contract for this grade. This contract will indicate all of the necessary steps to be taken by the student to satisfactorily change the grade of “I”.

Academic Appeals

A student wishing to appeal a grade must appeal first to the professor of the course. If the situation remains unresolved, the student may then appeal to the Director of the program. Following the ruling of the Director, either the professor or the student may file a complaint with the Academic Appeals Committee of the University. This formal written appeal must be filed by the end of the 4th week of classes in the next regular term following the term in which the course in question was taken. The Academic Appeals Committee then gathers information from the student, the instructor, and any other relevant parties. The Committee will deliver its recommendation on the complaint to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. After reviewing this recommendation and concurring with or amending it, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will inform the student and instructor of the disposition of the complaint no later than the last day of classes of the term in which the complaint was filed.

An appeal of any application of program policy made by the Director of the program may also be filed with the Vice President for Academic Affairs, who will make the final determination in the matter.

Withdrawal

Students may voluntarily withdraw from the M.A. in Professional Counseling program in accordance following the University’s general policies and procedures. Written notice of intent to withdraw must be provided to the Program Director prior to initiating the formal withdrawal process.

Readmission

Any individual who has previously matriculated and failed to complete the entire program of study within the required time period will be required to initiate a new application for admission. Likewise, applicants who have been previously offered admission into the Program but failed to matriculate in the designated class will also be required to initiate a new application for admission.

If a student officially withdraws after the posted cancellation deadline and on or before the first day of the term, they will be charged a non-cancellation fee of $150 for tuition and $150 for room and board for the fall and spring term. There is no non-cancellation fee for the summer term(s). If a student officially withdraws after the first day of classes, they will be charged an administrative withdrawal fee of $100 for the fall and spring terms and $50 fee for the summer and bi-terms. A student is not eligible for any financial aid prior to the first day of class attendance. No Refund of Tuition or fees will be applied for dropping a course after the last day to add a course for the term has expired.

Treatment of Title IV Aid When a Student Withdraws

The law specifies how your school must determine the amount of Title IV program assistance that you earn if you withdraw from school. The title IV programs that are covered by this law are: Federal Pell Grants, Academic Competitiveness Grants, National SMART grants, TEACH Grants, Stafford Loans, PLUS Loans, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOGs), and Federal Perkins Loans.

When you withdraw during your payment period or period of enrollment (your school can define these for you and tell you which one applies) the amount of Title IV program assistance that you have earned up to that point is determined by a specific formula. If you received (or your school or parent received on your behalf) less assistance than the amount that you earned, you may be able to receive those additional funds. If you received more assistance than you earned, the excess funds must be returned by the school and/or you.

The amount of assistance that you have earned is determined on a prorated basis. For example, if you completed 30% of your payment period or period of enrollment, you earn 30% of the assistance you are originally scheduled to receive. Once you have completed more than 60% of the payment period or period of enrollment, you earn all the assistance that you were scheduled to receive for that period. If you did not receive all of the funds that you earned, you may be due a post-withdrawal disbursement. If your post-withdrawal disbursement includes loan funds, your school must get your permission before it can disburse them. You may choose to decline some or all of the loan funds so that you don’t incur additional debt.

Your school may automatically use all or a portion of your post-withdrawal disbursement of grant funds for tuition, fees, and room and board charges (as contracted with the school). The school needs your permission to use the post-withdrawal grant disbursement for all other school charges. If you do not give your permission (some schools ask for this when you enroll), you will be offered the funds. However, it may be in your best interest to allow the school to keep the funds to reduce your debt at the school.

There are some Title IV funds that you were scheduled to receive that cannot be disbursed to you once you withdraw because of other eligibility requirements. For example, if you are a first-time, first-year undergraduate student and you have not completed the first 30 days of your program before you withdraw, you will not receive any FFEL or Direct loan funds that you would have received had you remained enrolled past the 30th day.

If you receive (or your school or parents receive on your behalf) excess Title IV program funds that must be returned, your school must return a portion of the excess equal to the lesser of: 1. Your institutional charges multiplied by the unearned percentage of your funds, or 2. The entire amount of excess funds. The school must return this amount even if it didn’t keep this amount of your Title IV program funds. If your school is not required to return all of the excess funds, you must return the remaining amount. Any loan funds that you must return, you (or your parent for a PLUS loan) repay in accordance with the terms of the promissory note. That is, you make scheduled payments to the holder of the loan over a period of time.
Any amount of unearned grant funds that you must return is called an overpayment. The maximum amount of a grant overpayment that you must repay is half of the grant funds you received or were scheduled to receive. You must make arrangements with your school or the Department of Education to return the unearned grant funds.

The requirements for Title IV program funds when you withdraw are separate from any refunds policy that your school may have. Therefore, you may still owe funds to the school to cover unpaid institutional charges. Your school may also charge you for any Title IV program funds that the school was required to return. If you don’t already know what your schools Refund policy is, you can ask your school for a copy. Your school can also provide you with the requirements and procedures for officially withdrawing from school.

If you have questions about your Title IV program funds, you can call the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4-fedaid (1-800-433-3243). TTY users may call 1-800-730-8913. Information is also available on Student Aid on the Web at www.studentaid.ed.gov.

Student Privacy and Informed Consent

Students pursuing a Master of Arts in Professional Counseling are granted privacy through the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) enacted to protect the privacy associated with educational records, to establish the rights of students to inspect and review their educational records and to provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Privacy Rights of Students The University is subject to the provision of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). This federal law affords students certain rights with respect to the student's education records. These rights are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access. Students should submit to the Office of the Registrar written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The Registrar will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate. Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate. They should write the Registrar, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate. If the Registrar decides not to amend as requested, the Registrar will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request and will provide the student with additional information regarding the hearing procedures.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the University discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

The University may also disclose without the student’s consent "directory information" unless the student has advised the Registrar in writing at least five days following registration that the student does not wish part or all of the directory information to be made public. Once filed, this instruction becomes a permanent part of the student’s record until the student instructs the University, in writing, to have the request removed. The primary purpose of directory information is to allow the University to include this type of information in certain University publications, the media, and outside organizations. The University has designated the following as examples of directory information: The student's name, addresses including electronic mail address, telephone numbers, date and place of birth, major field of study, degree sought, attained class level, expected date of completion of degree requirements and graduation, degrees and awards received, picture, dates of attendance, full or part-time enrollment status, the previous educational agency or institution attended, class rosters, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of athletic team members and denominational preference. The University may disclose education records in certain other circumstances, but shall do so only upon the authorization of the Registrar.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office which administers FERPA and to which complaints are to be sent is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC, 20202-4605.

In compliance with FERPA, University of the Cumberlands Department of Professional Counseling Studies requires its students’ informed consent to the sharing of personal information with its educational partners (clinical practicum sites) strictly on a need-to-know basis. This personal information may include, but is not limited to, social security numbers, immunization records, e-mail addresses, telephone numbers, results of health care tests, results of credit checks and criminal records known to University of the Cumberlands. Notice is hereby given that random drug screenings or additional criminal background checks may be requested of the students at anytime during the didactic or clinical years as well as for placement in certain clinical rotation sites as standard operating procedure. The student may be responsible for the cost of drug screenings or additional criminal background checks.
Program Curriculum

The Master’s program in Professional Counseling requires completion of 60 semester hours, 48 semester hours in didactic courses and 12 semester hours in clinical experiences.

Didactic Course Descriptions

PSYOL 530 Introduction to Clinical Mental Health Practice
This course is an overview and examination of Mental Health Counseling as a helping profession. It is designed to assist the student in developing his/her professional identity as a counselor. The course will examine historical, philosophical, and social/political influences on contemporary mental health counseling practices, as well as equip the student with an introduction to the practical aspects of a counseling practice (treatment planning, developing the helping relationship, collaboration/referral, etc.). An in-depth examination will be made into the professional organizations of professional counselors as well as their credentialing and licensing. 3 credit hours

PSYOL 531 Ethical and Legal Issues in Counseling
Legal and ethical issues and practices are integral to the professional counseling career. This course will examine topics such as confidentiality, ethical competence, professional relationships, testing and malpractice. Emphasis will be placed upon critical thinking and the development of skill in evaluating and resolving ethical dilemmas encountered in a mental health counseling practice. 3 credit hours

PSYOL 532 Lifespan Development
Lifespan Development will focus on human development from conception through adulthood. This course will provide an overview of development in the following areas: physical, cognitive, psychological, social-emotional, and moral. The five areas of development will be examined through various developmental theories with applications to therapeutic settings. Students will examine developmental crises that may be the source of problems that become the focus in a counseling setting. 3 credit hours

PSYOL 533 Personality Theories and Testing
This class will cover an in-depth examination into historical and current psychological theories of personality. These will include psychoanalytic, humanistic, behavioral, cognitive and trait theories. The student will be given the opportunity to interpret the strengths and weaknesses of each of these models, and integrate learning toward creating tools for effective counseling. Attention will also be given to administering, scoring, and interpreting a variety of Personality Tests, including the MMPI-II, the Rorschach, the TAT and Sentence Completion Test. 3 credit hours

PSYOL 534 Lifestyle and Career Counseling
A thorough examination of major theories of career development and use of career assessment instruments will help equip students in evaluating and applying approaches to career counseling. This course will explore the relationship between career choice, individual skills, and lifestyle, and explore career/occupational resources available to a counselor in order to empower clients to make effective career/lifestyle choices. 3 credit hours
PSYOL 535 Psychological Testing in Clinical Practice
This course will examine historical and current psychological theories of intelligence as these are reflected in testing procedures in clinical practice. Attention will be given to the structure, administration, scoring, interpretation, and use of various psychological tests typically utilized in a counseling practice, with a special focus on the WAIS-IV and the WISC-IV. Specific assessment procedures will include (but are not limited to) testing cognitive ability, personality dynamics, achievement, aptitude, adaptive behavior, and emotional characteristics. Special attention will be paid to helping students develop awareness of the process of conducting a comprehensive assessment, interpreting assessment results and communicating those results to clients. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 536 Counseling Research Methods
This course will provide an introduction to research methods and statistical procedures that are necessary to the design, application, and evaluation of current research in the field of counseling. Generating independent research proposals and analyzing published empirical findings will be emphasized in the course. Topics will include descriptive and inferential statistics, quasi-experimental designs, correlational research methods, nonparametric statistics, APA writing style, and independent research proposal development. 3 Credit Hours

PSYOL 537 Etiology and Diagnosis of Abnormal Behavior
One of the primary roles of counselors in community settings is to recognize the diagnostic criteria for abnormal behavior, understand its possible causes, and begin to develop appropriate treatment or referral plans for addressing the problems associated with psychopathology. This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive study of the etiology of abnormal behavior. In addition, students will learn how to facilitate the diagnostic process. This will include intimate familiarity with the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, and other tools for facilitating accurate mental health diagnoses and treatment plans. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 538 Counseling, Psychotherapy and Consulting
This course is an introduction to major therapeutic similarities and differences between counseling, psychotherapy, and consultation. Theories of personality and the causes and severity of abnormal behavior will serve as frameworks for therapeutic intervention strategies. Particular emphasis will be placed on applying theory to professional practice in each of the three disciplines, as well as exploring the diverse responsibilities the counselor must demonstrate in each of these roles. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 539 Counseling Diverse Populations
This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive study of the skills, techniques, and information necessary to facilitate a counseling process in a cross-cultural counseling relationship. Students will be encouraged to develop self-awareness of their own cultural biases as well as awareness of many other cultures. Special attention will be given to dimensions of culture, ethnicity, lifestyle, religion, socioeconomic status, and gender issues and how those factors affect the counseling relationship and the choice of treatment processes. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 630 Counseling during Crisis and Grief
This course will provide a basic overview of theory and interventions used when working with clients who seek out counseling during times of crisis. Crisis interventions address urgent situations that are triggered by a specific life event. Course material will address social/emotional problems associated with mental illness (depression, OCD, suicide, etc.), bereavement, or other social losses (health/chronic illness, divorce, unemployment, etc.) and how the counselor can intervene to prevent ongoing impairment or distress for clients. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 631 Theory and Practice of Counseling and Psychotherapy
This course provides a comprehensive overview of the various theories of counseling. This course is designed to critically examine the historical/theoretical frameworks that the major forms of counseling utilize. Some of the theoretical perspectives will include: (but are not limited to) Psychodynamic, Person-Centered (Humanistic), Existential, Adlerian, Behavioral, Cognitive-Behavioral, Gestalt, Multimodal, and Systems theory. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 632 Drug Abuse and Dependency
This course is designed to familiarize students with the major theories and strategies currently employed in the assessment and treatment of substance abuse and addiction. This includes an introduction to the knowledge, skills and personal characteristics necessary in performing the core functions of the substance abuse counselor. Since substance abuse problems are prevalent as either primary disorders or associated with other social, behavior or emotional problems, being able to recognize, intervene in an effective manner is crucial for anyone in the counseling field. 3 Credit hours

PSYOL 633 Group Counseling
This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive overview of the various group counseling theories. In addition, this course will help students link various theoretical perspectives in group dynamics to its practice in therapeutic settings. Students will learn how to assess interpersonal and group dynamics, identify and practice group facilitation skills, manage group process and recognize how and when group treatment may or may not be a beneficial treatment process for particular individuals or problems. 3 credit hours

PSYOL 634 Marriage and Family Counseling
This course provides an overview of the field of marriage and family therapy. Students will be introduced to family systems theory, explore their own family dynamics and be exposed to a wide range of skills and techniques designed to help couples and families cope with or overcome emotional, relational or behavioral problems. Students will be given opportunities to practice facilitating mock-family sessions to sharpen their skills as a therapist. 3 Credit hours
PSYOL 635 Child and Adolescent Counseling
This course examines issues related to the counseling of children and adolescents. Focus is on the application of counseling principles and theories to this specific population. Techniques for interviewing children and their families, methods for designing and evaluating treatment plans, age-appropriate assessment procedures, and ethical standards and legal requirements will also be addressed. 3 Credit hours

Clinical Course Descriptions

PSYC 560 Counseling Practicum I*
This course is designed to give students practical experience of the counseling field in a supervised setting. Students are required to spend 300 clock hours per course at selected agencies, working with clients and under direct supervision. During that time, the student is expected to increase his or her competence in the areas of basic interviewing, assessment, and counseling skills. Furthermore, the student will be made more aware of the ethical, legal, and professional issues inherent in the counseling process. Students may select clinical experiences in the following fields: (i) marriage and family therapy; (ii) community mental health counseling; (iii) clinical mental health counseling; (iv) child abuse; (v) violence against women (incl. rape, incest and domestic violence); (vi) alcohol and drug abuse counseling; (vii) court-mandated sex-offender counseling; (viii) grief and separation counseling (incl. divorce and death); (ix) adolescent male violence and gang behavior; (x) special problems of refugees and recent immigrant populations; (xi) pastoral counseling; and (xii) combinations thereof. 6 Credit Hours

PSYC 660 Counseling Practicum II*
This course is designed to give students additional practical experience of the counseling field in a supervised setting. Students are required to spend 300 clock hours per course at selected agencies, working with clients and under direct supervision. During that time, the student is expected to increase his or her competence in the areas of basic interviewing, assessment, and counseling skills. Furthermore, the student will be made more aware of the ethical, legal, and professional issues inherent in the counseling process. It is highly recommended that students choose a different practicum experience/site for their second practicum rotation in order to ensure a broader experience in the field of counseling. 6 Credit Hours

*Please note the appendix on page 27 of this catalog for the placement procedures and copies of the required documents to be used for both practicum courses.

Independent Study Course Descriptions

PSYC 690-696 Case Report Option
Students who have been approved for recognition of their post-baccalaureate professional experience can choose this option to complete the 60-hours of their coursework for the Master of Arts in Professional Counseling. This independent study will require students to complete case reports from their previous counseling experience that document their understanding of counseling process and theory. Each case report will be 10-14 pages in length. The specific format for these case reports will be provided for the students. Three case reports documenting the student’s actual work with clients will be required for 3 Credit Hours.

Please note the appendix on P. 43 of this catalog for a description of the Case Report requirements and format.

PSYC 699 Master’s Thesis Option
Students who have been approved for recognition of their post-baccalaureate professional experience may choose this option to complete the 60-hours of their coursework in the Master of Arts in Professional Counseling. Students who choose this option would be required to complete a 60-80 page (minimum) master’s thesis on a topic in the field of counseling of their choosing. The student will conduct independent research and complete the thesis in APA format. The student will be assigned a faculty person to supervise the thesis process and this work will be evaluated by a committee of the Professional Counseling faculty. 15 Credit Hours

Please note Appendix C on p. 46 of this catalog for a detailed description of the Thesis requirements and format

Typical Course Progression

Because students enrolled in the M.A. in Professional Counseling program at University of the Cumberlands have many options for completing their program, the schedules provided below reflect how a particular student’s schedule might look depending on his/her specific circumstances. However, students may join the program at differing points in a particular semester; therefore their schedule may vary somewhat from these examples.

The normal course load for students in the MAPC program (barring unusual circumstances) is two courses per 8-week bi-term and students may enter the program at the beginning of any bi-term. With this course load, students can typically complete the entire MAPC program (including the two Practicum rotations) in two calendar years.

At the completion of ALL coursework in the MAPC program every student will be required to take a Comprehensive Exit Exam. This exam will be similar in nature to the Counselor Preparation Comprehensive Exam (CPCE) and the National Counselor Examination. Due to the fact that the MA in Professional Counseling is a relatively new program at University of the Cumberlands, this exam will be used for program assessment purposes only. Eventually a minimum score on this exam will be required for graduation.

*Ph. D. students may be permitted to take 3 courses per bi-term to complete the MAPC portion of their program in 1 year. Ph. D. students are not required to complete the Practicum Rotations.

Ph.D. candidates should review the Clinical Psychology catalog and consult with their doctoral advisor to ensure that they enroll in the proper courses in the proper locations.
Appendix A
Counseling Practicum Guidelines/Documents

Students in the Master of Arts in Professional Counseling must complete two Counseling Practicum rotations. The practicum rotations are a requirement for state licensure as a Professional Counselor (LPCC – Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor). Each practicum rotation requires 300 clock hours of supervised observation/participation in counseling related experience at an agency/organization whose primary purpose is addressing mental health issues (i.e. community mental health center, private counseling center, drug treatment center, psychiatric hospital, etc).

Each practicum rotation will generally begin at the start of the first Summer Term (May) and continue through August. This gives students roughly 3 months to accrue their 300 hours of observation and practice. The program is designed in such a way that students will generally complete their first practicum rotation during their first summer in the MAPC program. Generally, students must complete at least 12 hours of MAPC coursework before being allowed to enroll for the first practicum experience (PSYC 560). The second practicum rotation would be taken in the second summer (after the second year of classes).

Students MUST be supervised by a licensed (or Certified) clinical professional (LPCC, LPCA, LCSW, etc) and have regular interaction with this supervisor throughout the entire 300-hour practicum. The supervisor must sign an agreement to monitor the student’s experience with their agency and provide the student with ongoing, constructive feedback designed to sharpen his/her clinical skills.

Because our students are not necessarily located in close proximity to the campus, we require them to arrange their own practicum placements. Students can find placement opportunities that are convenient to where they live. However, we do require students to have their placement choice and supervisor approved by the MAPC Program Director and/or faculty advisor before beginning the practicum experience. Because this course is designed to provide students with practical experience related to counseling agencies are encouraged to not use our students as “free labor” and load them down with paperwork, or assign them duties that are not primarily counseling-related.

It is also recommended that students acquire liability insurance prior to beginning the practicum placements (some agencies will require this). Some organizations (ACA, APA, HPSO, etc) offer liability policies to cover students in practicum/internship experiences for a fairly reasonable fee ($25-$50). Individual insurance companies also will often write a temporary rider for this purpose.

On the following pages the documents and forms that are required for both practicum courses are listed. These documents will be distributed to each student before beginning the respective practicum rotations. It is the students’ responsibility to have all of these documents completed and signed prior to beginning the actual practicum experience. Completed documents can be mailed to the Psychology Department: College Station Box 7990, Williamsburg, KY 40769 or fax them to: (606) 539-4570

Supervisor Contract

As the cooperating counseling professional who will have direct responsibility for the following practicum student(s): ___________________________________________,

____________________________________________________________________.

I, ___________________________________ will be responsible for:

(supervisor’s name)

Assistance in Developing the Practicum Agreement

I will meet with the practicum or internship student(s) to discuss and complete the practicum agreement. During this meeting, I will collaborate with the student(s) in developing their goals for the clinical experience (i.e. what they want to learn, strengthen, gain, etc). I will provide suggestions and guidance in terms of realistic goals and activities that can be completed within the time constraints of this clinical experience.

Orientation

I will provide an orientation to the practicum site/position. The orientation will include general information about the site, an overview of the administrative structure, and the role of the counseling services within the overall helping community. I will also make sure to introduce the practicum student(s) to other staff at the site and individuals in other areas with whom the student will interact.

Supervision

I will spend a minimum of one hour a week in direct supervision of the practicum student(s). Initially, sessions may cover such topics as review of the practicum agreement, orientation to the workplace, and start-up work on outlined activities. As the clinical experience progresses, I will spend time reviewing each student’s progress in meeting the specific requirements of the agreement, consultation concerning on-going caseload, discussion of professional concerns as they affect the workings of the site, or other relevant topics. I will provide the practicum student(s) with constructive feedback on his or her performance and share insights and experience with the student(s) for the practicing professional.

Role Modeling

I will serve as a professional role model for the practicum student(s) in job performance, personal growth, and professional and ethical behavior. As a site supervisor it is expected that I possess appropriate training, knowledge, and experience in a recognized helping profession, preferably counseling.
Taping

I will assist in facilitating the practicum students’ possible need to tape as part of their clinical training. I understand that this process facilitates the professional development of students and assists in quality control in services delivered to clients. I will help students identify clients that will be amenable to audio or video taping of sessions for training and university supervision purposes. I will review audio or video tapes as is appropriate and needed during our weekly one hour supervision sessions.

Site Visits

I recognize that site visits are required for all practicum students by the university course instructor. I will consult with the instructor to review student performance and any concerns. As a practicum site, I realize contact may be by phone or a site visit, to be determined, based on need, by the university clinical director or the program director.

Evaluation

I will provide on-going feedback to the student(s) concerning his or her performance of agreed upon duties, as well as his or her overall performance and behavior at the practicum site.

I will participate in the practicum students’ mid-semester self-evaluation. I will set-up a conference with the student to assess his or her work toward goals that were established at the beginning of the semester. I will conduct a formal final evaluation with the student at the end of the course and submit to the practicum instructor at the University of the Cumberlands a copy of this final evaluation after reviewing it with the student(s).

Conducting counseling sessions with the support and feedback of others is an important part of a trainee’s professional development. In most training programs, sessions are recorded on either audio or video tape. Once a session is completed, the trainee listens to the recording, providing him/herself with feedback that can lead to ideas for future sessions and recognition of areas in which one’s work can be improved. Advanced counselors, as well as trainees, listen to develop a full picture of what happened in the session: important client emotions, beliefs, and personality characteristics not fully seen during the actual session, significant moments or turning points, and significant things the counselor did or did not do. Receiving organized feedback from the supervisor and giving organized feedback to oneself are major vehicles both for improving one’s work with a given client and for building one’s professional skills.

The following outline is offered as an aid to producing a written analysis of a counseling session, especially one that has been recorded. Used carefully, the outline can help the trainee organize thoughts about the client, the session, and the quality of one’s work. Each student will be required to submit one case presentation for completion of the practicum.

Background information

Demographic information, such as age, grade in school, employment, family unit, and history that seems relevant to the presenting problem.

Presenting problem: Why did the client approach you, from the client’s perspective? Or why did you approach the client?

Was there a precipitating set of circumstances? How long has the problem(s) persisted?

If third parties are involved, what were their observations and concerns?

Overview of the session

What did you talk about?

What were the dominant issues and themes for this session?

If this was a session beyond the initial meeting, what were your process and outcome goals going into the session?

Observations and assessment: Conceptualization of the Problem

Describe your observations and impressions of the client.

What is your view of the problem? What are the common themes?

What are the client’s barriers to growth and coping skills?
What is the etiology of the client’s present psychological capacity or incapacity?

What is she/he trying to accomplish by various behaviors?

What are your counseling goals?

Observations about self

Describe significant themes and patterns you observed in your own behavior, noting what you did that you considered especially effective and areas that were troublesome for you.

Describe your own internal experiencing during the session, with special focus on times or places where you felt confused, tense, angry, or at a loss.

Plans for the next session

How do you hope to follow up in subsequent sessions?

What issues and concerns do you think worthwhile to explore?

What process goals will you try to accomplish?

Help

Specifically what kind of help would you like, either from your internship supervisor or from fellow students, about this client, this session, and your helping efforts?

Clinical Case Report Description/Format

A case report is a thorough (10 to 14 page) case presentation in narrative form.

In writing a case report, use an actual client from your prior counseling experience, one who has completed treatment or is no longer obtaining services, using a fictitious name for the client in the case. A composite case composed from different clients will not be acceptable.

The preparation of case reports satisfies two distinct purposes. First, the preparation of case reports offers a unique means of integrating theoretical knowledge acquired in the classroom with practical knowledge, training and skills gained during the clinical practicum or in prior clinical experience. Second, case reports typically are submitted to licensing boards and potential employers.

To the extent practical, provide evidence of your knowledge and experience of the following skills.

1. SCREENING - Demonstrate your ability to determine treatment appropriateness and client eligibility for a particular program. Ability to use appropriate diagnostic criteria in determining eligibility and ability to suggest alternative services if necessary.

2. INTAKE - Demonstrate your ability to perform the administrative and initial assessment procedures for admission to a program.

3. ORIENTATION - Demonstrate your ability to describe to client and significant others program philosophy, program, goals, procedures and rules governing client rights, and treatment costs.

4. ASSESSMENT - Demonstrate your ability to identify and evaluate an individual’s strengths, weakness, problems and needs for the development of the treatment plan.

5. TREATMENT PLANNING - Demonstrate your ability to work with client to identify and rank problems needing resolution, establish agreed upon goals, and to determine appropriate process and resources to be utilized.

6. COUNSELING - Demonstrate your ability to utilize special skills to assist individuals, families or groups in achieving objectives through; exploration of a problem and its ramifications; examination of attitudes and feelings; consideration of alternative solutions; and decision making.

7. CASE MANAGEMENT - Demonstrate your ability to utilize activities which bring services, agencies, resources or people together within a planned framework of action toward the achievement of established client goals. Ability to coordinate multiple service plans.

8. CRISIS INTERVENTION - Demonstrate your ability to identify a crisis when it surfaces, attempt to mitigate or resolve the immediate problem while using the negative events to enhance the treatment efforts.

9. CLIENT INTERVENTION - Demonstrate your ability to provide information to individuals and groups concerning available alcohol and drug abuse services and resources.

10. REFERRAL - Demonstrate your ability to identify the needs of the client that cannot be met by the counselor and/or agency and assisting client in utilizing available support systems and community resources. Ability to utilize other resources while maintaining appropriate client confidentiality.

11. REPORT AND RECORDKEEPING - Demonstrate your ability to perform the function of documentation to assist the client’s progress toward achievement of established goals; facilitate communication between co-workers and other service providers; assist supervisor in evaluating therapeutic skills and effectiveness.

12. CONSULTATION WITH OTHER PROFESSIONALS - Demonstrate your ability to relate with other professionals (both alcohol and drug counselors and non-alcohol and drug professionals) to assure quality care for the client.

13. COMMUNICATION WITH UNDER-SERVED POPULATIONS - Demonstrate your ability to recognize and to respond effectively to behavior, attitudes, and values unique to different ethnic, racial, religious groups, homosexual adolescents, women, elderly, and other identified underserved client groups.

14. SKILLS ENGAGING FAMILY MEMBERS - Demonstrate your ability to involve family members and other significant persons present in client’s life into the treatment process.

As appropriate, use headings to organize your case reports. For instance, if the case report refers to an alcohol and drug abuse case, the following headings would likely be appropriate.

a. Chemical Abuse History
b. Psychological Functioning
c. Education/Vocational/Financial
d. Legal History
e. Social
f. Physical History
g. Treatment History
h. Assessment
i. Treatment Plan Process
j. Course of Treatment
k. Discharge Summary

The case reports are reviewed by faculty and are graded on the basis of completeness, clarity and understanding of the counseling process. A copy of a typical grading rubric is provided below:

Appendix C
Master’s Thesis Option

The master’s thesis is a 60 to 80 page (longer theses are acceptable) written report that represents significant scholarship, the results of theoretical or applied research, and the application of knowledge to some aspect of counseling. The topic of the thesis must be approved by both the student’s academic advisor and the program director.

Upon the submission of an unbound manuscript, a committee of three examiners shall be appointed to review and evaluate the student’s work. Typically, one member of the examination committee is a faculty member who has served as the student’s advisor during the preparation of the thesis. The second member of the examination committee is typically the chair of the psychology department. The third member of the examination committee would be a faculty member of the MAPC program.

Before recommending the award of the “M.A. in Professional Counseling” degree the examiners must satisfy themselves that the thesis is: (i) clearly written; (ii) takes due account of previously published work on the subject; and (iii) represents a useful contribution to learning relative to the field of counseling.
